It was dated Khartoum, February 15, and was Rooseveltian, even to instances of simplified spelling. A. R. Hall to see the tableaux of American history, given under the direction of Mrs. Barney by members of Washington's smart set.

Mr. Gist Blair, who has charge of the ushers, has as his assistants Capt. Sowerby, naval attaché of the British Embassy; Rustem Bey, Ottoman charge d'affaires; Baron Hardenbroek, of the German Embassy; Col. C. G. Treat, U. S. A.; Col. Downing, U. S. A.; Commander Cleland Davis, U. S. N.; Col. Frank Denny, U. S. M. C.; Maj. Porter, U. S. M. C.; Maj. Hooker, U. S. M. C.; William Corcoran Eustis, Mr. Archibald Hopkins, and Mr. Alpheus Shaw.

Society Leaders in Charge.

Each tableau is in charge of a society leader, who has chosen her subject and selected the characters and representatives. Mrs. Barney has charge of two, "Pocahontas at the Court of St. James," waiting to be presented to the Queen, and "Benjamin Franklin at the Court of Louis XVI," the latter to be one of special brilliancy.

Miss Jean Walsh, daughter of Dr. Ralph Walsh, an old resident of Washington, will recite the poem, "The Last Meeting of Pocahontas with the Great Capt. John Smith," just before the curtain rises on the first mentioned tableau. The personnel of the picture will be as follows: Pocahontas, Miss Marjorie Skelting; Capt. John Smith, Mr. Karl Rakenmann; Sir Walter Raleigh, Maj. Pierre Stevens; Rolfe, Mr. William Bowie Clarke; Earl of Leicester, Lieut. Hall, U. S. A.; ladies of the court, Mrs. Emmons, Mrs. Fremont-Smith, Miss Johnston, Miss Stuckey, Miss Hinckley, Miss De Land, and Miss Mason, of New York, who is a house guest of Mrs. Julian James; pages, Miss and Master Fremont-Smith and Master Bell.

Edgerton, U. S. A.

Miss Roberta Ames will dance some of the classic dances which Mrs. Barney has taught her between these tableaux.

The throne scene of Napoleon in the tableau of James Monroe being presented at the court of Napoleon will be a thing of splendor. This is the largest of the series, and will in many ways be the most interesting. James Monroe will be represented by his great-grandson, Gouverneur Hoes, son of Chaplain Randolph R. Hoes, U. S. N.

Has Identical Costume.

He will wear the identical court costume which his distinguished ancestor wore on this occasion. Mrs. Hoes and the characters are: Napoleon, Mr. Ellery C. Stowell; Empress Josephine, Miss Henrietta Fitch, who traces her ancestry through her mother to Marie Françoise Navarre and George McDougal, thence back in unbroken line to Antoine de Bourbon, Duke de Vendome, father of Henry IV of France; Robert Livingston, American Minister to France at the time of Monroe's mission and presentation at court, will be represented by Mr. Henry P. Parker, great-grandson of Timothy Pickens, of Massachusetts, who was quartermaster general in the Revolutionary army, Secretary of War, of State, and Postmaster General under Washington.
